- Generous displays of colourful flower spikes from spring through to autumn.
- Fast growing for quick results and adding bulk in garden beds and borders.
- Neat habit with reliable performance.
- Hardy and easy to grow.

SUGGESTED USES:

- Fast results for new gardens.
- Large blocks of solid colour.
- Lengthy colour for mixed borders.
- Great for a large containers.
- Cottage or wild flower style gardens.

CULTURAL CARE

- Low water requirements once established.
- Prefers a rich but well draining soil.
- Prune by up to half in late autumn, early winter or after flowering. Removing spent flower stems will encourage further displays.
- Feed in spring with slow release fertiliser.
- Frost hardy once established.

Penstemons are worthy of a space of their own in the garden border to show off their dense habit and prolific displays of flower stems. However, they can be 'crowded' in amongst other warm weather flowering perennials such as Stokesia, Coreopsis & Agastaches for natural looking tapestry of colour. Ideal for mass planting where, rubbing elbows, they will astonish with the solid block of colour when in flower!
